

Trade Patterns

This paragraph is going to be about how physical environment affects trade patterns in India. First of all, dolls are very hard to send to the united states of America. It's very hard because a ocean called Arabian ocean it is hard to pass. Also, it is very hard to send blanketsto China. It is hard because there is a big mountain surrounding a city. In conclusion, this paragraph was about trade patterns.

Cultural diffusion

All in All, this paragraph is going to be about cultural diffusion and how phisical enviroment affects cultural diffusion. One of the cultural diffusion is dolls. Physical enviroment affects the sending of dolls heat and the lack of water. Dolls are all over the world from India. Also, pots are being send all over the world. Physical enviroment affects cultural diffusion by the lack of education or the worlds enviroment. In conclusion, this paragraph was about cultural diffusion and how physical enviroment affects India.

Economy

On this paragraph we will talk to you about economy and how physical enviroment affects it's economy. India sends gold to japan and it is hard for them .It is hard for them because japan is surrounded by water and a sunami could accur and they wont be able to send it. Also, itis hard for them to send papers or products all aroundthe world. It's hard because some earthquakes may accur and will lose all your products while shipping. All in All, this paragraph was about how phisical enviroment affects India's economy.

This is the map of India it is color orange and is around the Arabian sea and it is close to pakistan.

Population-1.237 billion
 Capital-New Delhi
 Prime Minister-Manmohan Singh
 President-Pranab Mukherjee
 National anthem-Jana Gana Mana
 Official languages-Hindi and English
 Location - South Asia
 Climate - hot and rainy

Indias Imports are 235bn through april till september in the year 2012-2013 and its exports is 142bn Through April 2012-september 2013 . Its natural resources is dolls.